Customer shall also own any well or reservoir data acquired by Smith arising out of the Work and any reports or interpretations or characterizations thereof provided to Customer by Smith. Subject to any confidentiality obligations, Smith may use such data internally to improve its products and services and to refine its computer models.

Either party will be excused from complying with the terms and conditions of these General Terms and Conditions and the applicable Order if, to the extent and only to the extent of such delay or prevention, such party's compliance is delayed or prevented by a Force Majeure event. A Force Majeure event will not excuse making payments pursuant to an applicable Order or other commercial writing, performing indemnity obligations, or other duties not directly limited by the Force Majeure event. If a party is rendered unable, wholly or in part, by a Force Majeure event to perform, that party will give written notice detailing such Force Majeure event to the other party as soon as reasonably possible. If a Force Majeure event continues without interruption for ten (10) days, either party may cancel the applicable Order by giving written cancellation notice to the other party.

25. Governing Law.

Where any Work is to be provided in a geographic location covered by the General Maritime law, General Maritime law shall apply and shall govern the validity, interpretation, and performance of any Order subject to these General Terms and Conditions. In those instances where the General Maritime law does not apply, the law of the State of Texas shall apply and govern the validity, interpretation, and performance. The parties agree that the law of the selected jurisdiction shall apply exclusive of any principles of conflicts of laws that would require application of the substantive laws of another jurisdiction. Any suit or proceeding hereunder shall be brought exclusively in state or federal courts located in Harris County, Texas. Each party consents to the personal jurisdiction of the state and federal courts of said county and waives any objection that such courts are an inconvenient forum.
